ANOTHER MINISTER ROBBED,

And Brooklyn Was Again the Scene of the Occurrence.

Brooklyn thieves are no respecters of persons, and even the home of a minister of the Gospel is not safe from their depredations. On Friday night this fact was demonstrated by the burlap-covered invasion of the apartments of the Rev. Zane K. Duschman, the pastor of the "Sailors' Mission" at Old Slip, in this city. The Rev. Mr. Duschman and his family occupied the basement and entire floor of the house at 119 Waterly Avenue, Brooklyn, another family living on the upper floors. Mr. Duschman, his wife, and baby slept in the back parlor, a heavy folding door separating it from the front room. The burglar crept to the door, looking out through the door leading to the hallway. Mr. Duschman had no distrust whatever of his fellow man, and slept in the best of the protection afforded by the Brooklyn kindly pastor. When he awoke yesterday morning he found the door wide open; his trousers lying on the floor, and his coat and cigar case missing. Further investigation showed that his bunch of keys had been taken from his pocket in which he kept his money, papers, and other valuables. From this boy had been taken $100 in bills, a silver watch with the initials "H. G." engraved on it, and a diamond-cut gold chain. The thieves overlooked another silver watch and a gold watch which were in the same drawer in which the coat was kept. They carried off a number of toys, including the one belonging to the Old Slip mission.

A servant in the house said she was awakened by a sharp noise, and, looking out through the front window, followed by the ringing of the bell, and was told that it was a call for the minister, went to the door without suspecting anything amiss. There were no marks on the any of the doors or windows had been tampered with, and the supposition is that the burglar belonged to the Old Slip mission.

Employers Approve Hupt. Lee's Suspension.

Postmaster Dayton received yesterday the signatures of the 120 employees of the Post Office Department to a paper expressing their approval of the suspension of Superintendent Lee. The employees expressed the hope that this suspension would result in the appointment of a superintendant who would be more sympathetic with their regulation would be in sympathy with Postmaster Dayton's.
